Emergency Housing Shelters

Next Move Homeless Services

- Transitional housing within the Next Move continuum of housing is a form of housing support that enables families and individuals to quickly transition into stable housing and employment. Long term housing is more robust; these programs provide services to support individuals and families who need ongoing assistance to maintain housing stability and prepare to enter the job market, school, and other community activities.

- Family Shelter Program: Provides an emergency shelter stay with intensive supportive services to homeless families with dependent children, including single fathers and males over the age of 14. All households are assigned a program support team who provides case management, housing, employment and specialized children’s services. This team offers supportive services that assist them in obtaining resources, take advantage of employment training and placement opportunities, develop a plan to secure housing and adopt positive lifestyle habits.

The Salvation Army

- Emergency Shelters: For those looking to escape the extreme cold, intense heat, torrential rain, or just wanting a safe, quiet place to spend the night, The Salvation Army provides a nutritious meal, a warm bed and a clean shower.

- Group Homes and Transitional Living Centers: Along with meeting immediate physical needs of food and shelter, these establishments provide educational, counseling and vocational services to help develop vital life skills and independence for re-entry into society.
• Family Service Programs: The Salvation Army assists families with temporal needs by providing food, housing, and utility assistance. Best of all, these programs enable mothers to stay with their children (boys and girls), even when placed in emergency shelters.
