Associate Degrees

A.A. in American Studies

American Studies is the study of American culture, which includes an exploration of the arts, ideas, skills and institutions in US society.

Highlights include:
- A broad foundation for a variety of career or transfer opportunities in the study of culture
- Professional, student-centered, diverse and innovative staff committed to providing the best possible American Studies education
- A diverse set of course offerings which allows students to select based on their interests

Note to Transfer Students:
If you are interested in transferring to a four-year college or university to pursue a bachelor's degree in this major, it is critical that you meet with a CRC counselor to select and plan the courses for your major. Schools vary widely in terms of the required preparation. The courses that CRC requires for an Associate's degree in this major may be different from the requirements needed for the Bachelor's degree.

The American Studies Associate in Arts (A.A.) degree may be obtained by completion of the required program, plus general education requirements, plus sufficient electives to meet a 60-unit total. See CRC graduation requirements.

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this program, the student will be able to:

- PSLO 1: Synthesize multiple disciplines focusing on U.S. society, such as history, art appreciation, music appreciation, and philosophy to achieve cultural literacy.
- PSLO 2: Practice college level critical thinking and writing in the interdisciplinary courses within the American Studies major.
- PSLO 3: Evaluate cross-cultural links between multiple disciplines focusing on U.S. society, with an emphasis on commonalities of cultural expression between different subcultures in the U.S.
- PSLO 4: Develop a foundation for cultural pluralism, a rejection of previous personal prejudices, and knowledge of and comfort with others unlike themselves.

Career Information

Research; Archivist; Education; Historian; Law; Politics Some career options may require more than two years of college study. Classes beyond the associate degree may be required to fulfill some career options or for preparation for transfer to a university program.

A.A. in Humanities

Humanities is the study of culture. This CRC major is intended for students who wish a general background in the areas of humanities or social science at the community college level. Several options are offered in specific interest areas but all are intended to give the student an interdisciplinary foundation for further study or an overview of the area chosen. Students who also wish to transfer to a four-year college should plan their programs to meet general education and lower division major requirements. All students are encouraged to consult with a counselor.

Highlights include:
- A valuable foundation for a variety of career or transfer opportunities
- Diversified and talented faculty
- Overview of theoretical and cultural principles

Note to Transfer Students:
If you are interested in transferring to a four-year college or university to pursue a bachelor's degree in this major, it is critical that you meet with a CRC counselor to select and plan the courses for your major. Schools vary widely in terms of the required preparation. Humanities (HUM) Courses

HUM 300 Classical Humanities

The course focuses upon Western culture in its attempt to interpret human experience and identity. The course examines basic human values as exemplified in the arts, philosophy and history. Emphasis is on the Greeks, the Romans, and the Judeo-Christian tradition up to the end of the Middle Ages.

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this course, the student will be able to:

- SLO #1: Identify different artistic styles based on their historical periods, philosophical and or world view.
- Objective 1a: Identify the specific form of art (i.e., sculpture, architecture, literature).
- Objective 1b: Identify the subject matter of the art work and place it in a social and historical context.
- SLO #2: Use methodological skills when interpreting art.
- Objective 2a: Apply concepts of composition, subject, and execution when examining art from different disciplines.
- Objective 2b: Relate the above information to historical change, whether it be technological (i.e., a new technique) or social (i.e., a new understanding of man in the universe).
- SLO #3: Relate different art forms to each other using and understanding if the historical period in which they are created (i.e., a student might be asked to relate 5th century B.C. Greek ideas about perfection to the philosophy of Plato, the Parthenon and classic statuary.)
- Objective 3a: Describe how three works of art in different media each describe the basic ideas of their time.
- SLO #4: Use the methodology developed above and apply in to the contemporary culture.
This course introduces students to the Humanities and the Arts. Emphasis is placed on appreciation. Students develop the tools necessary to analyze and appreciate masterworks from diverse cultures and time periods.

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this course, the student will be able to:

- SLO 1: Identify art conceptually (What is art?)
  - Objective 1a: Identify the artistic form of a work of art.
  - Objective 1b: Evaluate and analyze the subject of a work of art.
  - Objective 1c: Interpret and criticize a work of art.
- SLO 2: Apply methodologies to analyze a work of visual art (painting, sculpture, mixed media).
  - Objective 2a: Evaluate the principles of composition to different forms of the visual arts.
  - Objective 2b: Compare the elements of three examples from the visual arts (i.e., line, color, texture).
  - Objective 2c: Examine three examples of visual arts identifying their commonalities and differences.
- SLO 3: Apply methodologies to analyze a work of Literary Art.
  - Objective 3a: Identify genres.
  - Objective 3b: Analyze three different literary pieces that share a common theme.
  - Objective 3c: Compare literature and the visual arts.
- SLO 4: Apply methodologies to analyze a work of music or dance.
  - Objective 4a: Identify the elements of music or dance.
  - Objective 4b: Evaluate musical structures (for example what is Sonata Form?) or components of dance structures.
  - Objective 4c: Compare common musical forms or dance forms using themes from two different time periods or cultures.
- SLO 5: Explore the interrelationships between the arts and historic, scientific and philosophic changes.
  - Objective 5a: Evaluate two works of art to historic events (for example the conquests of Alexander the Great and WWI).
  - Objective 5b: Evaluate two works of art to advances in science (for example the work of Sir Issac Newton and Albert Einstein).
  - Objective 5c: Compare two works of art in the context of philosophy (for example the Philosopher Plato of 5th century BC and the Philosopher Jean Paul Sartre of the 20th century AD).
  - Objective 6a: Interpret contemporary forms of artistic expression.
  - Objective 6b: Relate a contemporary work of art to recent historic events, scientific or philosophical changes.
  - Objective 6c: Evaluate the connection between current events and artistic expression.

HUM 310 Modern Humanities

This course focuses upon Western culture in its attempt to interpret human experience and identity. The course examines basic human values as exemplified in the arts, philosophy, and history. Emphasis is on the Renaissance, the Baroque period, and the Modern World.

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this course, the student will be able to:

- SLO #1: Identify and analyze different artistic styles based on their historical periods, philosophical and or scientific world view.

  - Objective 3b: Evaluate cultural production in relation to regional history and culture.

HUM 495 Independent Studies in Humanities

An independent studies project involves an individual student or small group of students in study, research, or activities beyond the scope of regularly offered courses. See the current catalog section of "Special Studies" for full details of Independent Studies.

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this course, the student will be able to:

- SLO #1: Actively engage in intellectual inquiry beyond that required in order to pass a course of study (College Wide Learning Outcome – Area 4).
- Discuss and outline a proposal of study (that can be accomplished within one semester term) with a supervising instructor qualified within the discipline.
- Design an independent study (to be completed individually or by collaboration of a small group) to foster special knowledge, skills, and experience that are not available in any one regularly scheduled course.
- Use information resources to gather discipline-specific information.
- SLO #2: Utilize modes of analysis and critical thinking to apply theoretical perspectives and/or concepts in the major discipline of study to significant problems and/or educational activities (College Wide Learning Outcome – Area 3).
- Analyze and apply the knowledge, skills and experience that are involved in the independent study to theoretical perspectives and/or concepts in the major discipline of study.
- Explain the importance of the major discipline of study in the broader picture of society.
- SLO #3: Communicate a complex understanding of content matter of the major discipline of study (College Wide Outcome – Area 3).
- Demonstrate competence in the skills essential to mastery of the major discipline of study that are necessary to accomplish the independent study.
- SLO #4: Identify personal goals and pursue these goals effectively (College Wide Outcome – Area 4).
- Utilize skills from the "academic tool kit" including time management, study skills, etc., to accomplish the independent study within one semester term.
